

Community Consulting Teams | Boston

bringing MBA business expertise to Boston area nonprofits since 1990

Join Our Winning Team! Volunteer with CCT Boston

Community Consulting Teams (CCT) brings together Boston-area nonprofits that would benefit from pro bono business consulting services and MBA alumni volunteers from top-tier schools who want to give back to their community. CCT is a 501(c)(3) nonprofit organization.

Our Volunteers

- Graduates of leading business schools with experience in many industries and diverse functional expertise.

What Can Volunteers Expect?

- To work with a Boston-area nonprofit organization as part of a project team comprised of 6-8 MBA volunteers.
- To devote 3-4 hours per week from January through May on their CCT project.
- To provide input as to project preferences.
- Our clients are diverse as are their project needs. CCT projects typically fall under the areas of Marketing, Branding, Finance, Operations, Organization, as well as Growth and Situational Assessments.

Benefits of Volunteering?

- Play an instrumental role in enhancing the effectiveness of vital Boston-area nonprofits.
- Gain deeper knowledge and insight into nonprofits as well as into the specific areas of your project scope.
- Network and form friendships with MBA Alumni while working on a project.
- Develop or refresh business skills.
- Have fun and feel satisfaction of giving back to community.

CCT Volunteer Timeline

- Volunteer Application: Volunteer applications are due by October 29.
- Team Matching: Volunteers are matched with projects based on expertise, industry experience, and areas of interest. Project managers attend a training session and finalize project scopes; teams start their work together in early January before the All-Client Meeting.
- All-Client Meeting: January 21, 2017, all clients and volunteers will attend a session to learn about this year's projects followed by working sessions for individual teams and clients.
- Project Execution: January through May, the team works on the project, creating work plans, dividing tasks, and collaborating on research and recommendations, meeting in-person and by conference call. In late March, at a mid-point meeting with the client, each team presents project deliverables, receives feedback, and reassesses direction.
- Final Project Presentation: Late May or early June, teams present and discuss final deliverables with clients.
- Wrap-Up Party: A wrap-up party to honor clients and volunteers will be held in June.

What our volunteers say:

“Great team, great project, great experience.”

“The project was meaningful in that the work had direct impact on an organization that served an important need. I believe the team provided critical recommendations that the board could act on.”

“We accomplished both of our goals – we delivered an excellent product that was well-received by the client, and all the team members had a positive experience.”

Next Steps:
