Client Stories

Fuller Craft Museum

--Community Engagement

“CCT provided us with the metrics other organizations use to measure their success at engaging the community, as well as ‘how to’ recommendations that were clear and concise. These ranged from increasing our programming to focusing on our entire visitor experience—pre, post and in-museum. A miracle happened because CCT gave us all the tools we need to fully engage our community.”

Denise Lebica, Director

Eliot School of Fine & Applied Arts

--Financial Analysis

“Our challenge to CCT was to help us understand, and bring into the black, a program that had been chronically running in the red. I am proud to say that CCT’s ideas immediately brought this program to profitability, which is amazing. However, even far more valuable is that we now have a set of tools to test variables and visualize data beyond what we ever even imagined.”

Abigail Norman, Executive Director

Old North Church Foundation of Boston

--Marketing

“First CCT helped us clarify our brand across many existing offerings and evaluated proposed opportunities for enhancing revenue. Then the CCT team gave us the courage to do something radical. They encouraged us to move from a free to a fee-based model. We have just finished our first year charging admission fees and have experienced increases in net revenue over the donation based model.”
